- People trust decisions more when they believe the decision was made by a algorithm

- People want to do things algorithmically

- There is an Irony of Automation

- Danger of treating algorithms as though they are epistemic superiors

Algorithm Appreciation

- People trust decisions more when they believe the decision was made by a algorithm

- People want to do things algorithmically

- There is an Irony of Automation

- Danger of treating algorithms as though they are epistemic superiors